Barstools on skids

Woodbe combines minimalism, functionality and love of natural materials. The original barstool on skids made of solid oakwood is a unique element of the collection.

The upholstered seat provides comfort and the backrest can be upholstered or made of plywood with natural veneer.

The Woodbe barstool is a timeless model characterised by its extraordinary functionality. It is perfect for a kitchen island at home, as well as for cafés, restaurants, bars and staff canteens. The chair is equipped with a wooden support protected with a metal cap, which allows you to rest your legs comfortably during a meal or conversation.

The Woodbe collection was designed by Włodzimierz Orsztynowicz and it was inspired by Japanese and Scandinavian design..

Wooden benches

Woodbe combines minimalism, functionality and love of natural materials. The collection includes benches with a solid oakwood structure that guarantees their solidity and durability for many years of use.

The benches are 120 cm long and are available in two heights, so they can be used with both standard and bar tables. The higher model is equipped with leg supports protected with a metal cap. They are perfect for interiors intended for socialising, casual contact and those with a less formal atmosphere.

The Woodbe collection was designed by Włodzimierz Orszynowicz and it was inspired by Japanese and Scandinavian design.
