

In today's reality, it became a standard to combine working in the office and from home. Spending hours on a sofa, a stool or in your living room armchair is uncomfortable and negatively affects your body. A good chair supports work comfort and reduces back and wrist pain. With Eggy, you can bring the office comfort into your home.

Features

- The mechanism takes care of your spine and ensures the natural movement of your body.
- The mesh backrest provides excellent air circulation, while the lumbar support with manual height adjustment and a large seat improve the comfort of work.
- With the adjustable armrests, it is easy to place your arms at the desired height, thus relieving the shoulders.
- The chair will match any interior and can be personalised within broad range of finishes.
- Available in more than a dozen types of upholstery, including Rivet - a fabric made in 100% from recycled plastic bottles.
